JONES ON THE CHINESE.

Senator Jones struck the Chinese nail squarely on the head in his speech at Virginia last Saturday night, and his remarks should be read by all. We copy:

The question of Chinese immigration has been painfully familiar to many of you for a long period. Fortunately, through the wisdom of the Miners' Unions of Nevada and the acquiescence in their demands by the mine owners, the barbarous, cruel and demoralizing competition of the Chinese in our great leading industry has been avoided. The blight is not upon us as it is upon our sister State, California, yet we have not escaped the evil effects of the competition there. Each avenue of industry occupied by the Chinese in California lessens the avenues for white labor and tends to overcrowd the labor market here. Chinese immigration is a question of world-wide significance. It is a cosmopolitan movement—the danger to flow from it cannot be overestimated. I have always held the opinion that the importation or immigration of Asiatic laborers to this country should be not restricted but absolutely and entirely prohibited. A distinction is sought to be made between the voluntary immigration of Chinese laborers and the importation of coolies, but it is a distinction without a difference. The whole population of China has been subjected for thousands of years to the most cruel despotism. During the gloomy period not one single brave declaration for liberty has been made, not one blow for freedom struck. The Chinese race has solved the problem of achieving the maximum of production with the minimum of consumption. The question is often happily asked is not this superior race of ours able to withstand the competition of the barbarous, despised Chinese in any of the avenues of industry and trade? Are we not able to hold our own with them in the race of life? I answer, yes; but upon the conditions that we banish hope, surrender ambition, forget the Christian virtues, give up wife, children, family and family ties, stifle all the spiritual yearnings of the soul and content ourselves with the minimum that will support animal life. Our race will never permit itself to be reduced to this degraded condition—to this appalling extremity. It is the first time in the history of the world that the highest and most civilized have contended with each other on the same field and striven for the possession of the soil with industrial weapons. The contest is a much more dangerous one to the higher race than if the weapons were warlike. The ability and willingness to live on the most miserable and scanty subsistence which enables the Coolie to drive the American artisan and laborer from the field and workshop will enable the Chinese employer inured to the same habits to compel the employer to abandon his business and the banker to surrender his counter. Whenever a superior race with cultivated wants and tastes are threatened with the invasion of an inferior race of unlimited numbers whose wants are few and whose power of endurance and production is great—one of three things must happen. The immigration must be checked before it becomes too great to deal with; or the inferior race must be reduced to slavery and made to minister to the wants of the superior race; or the superior race must become as degraded as the inferior, or be driven out by it.

The enslavement of the inferior race is not for a moment to be thought of. It would be prolific of untold evil and horrors, and is repugnant to the oppressive tendencies of the age. For the superior race to permit itself to be driven out by the inferior would be repugnant to the instincts of self-preservation. The third proposition, then, is the only sensible and feasible one. The persistent efforts of the people of this coast and their representatives in Congress have attracted general attention to evil of Asiatic immigration. The people of the East are beginning to appreciate the magnitude of the threatened danger to the industries of this coast, and eventually of the whole country, and I have no doubt that a little more agitation of the question will secure proper and peaceful remedies for it. The right to quarantine physical disease has never been questioned; and can the right be denied to quarantine the leprosy of morals with which their presence here would attain our pure atmosphere? The people of the East are beginning to see, as we have long seen, that their presence among us contaminate and debauch our youth with their degrading vices, and drives our manhood from their fields of industry by their lavish industry.

ALL SORTS.

Ben Butler is sixty-one. North Carolina has 2,000 distilleries.

Forty-eight thousand flies weigh a pound.

Maine packs 5,000,000 cans of corn every year.

The world uses 480,000 tons of coffee every year.

General Grant will visit China and Japan before returning home.

Over sixty persons were maimed in Philadelphia on the Fourth.

Tom Edison has been made a Doctor of Philosophy by Union College.

The first regatta for a number of crews competing for annual prizes to be carried for a year by the victors, took place in 1839, the word "regatta" being imported from Italy for that special occasion.

Westminster, Mass., had an old folks' picnic, at which seventy-four persons over seventy years of age were present. Jonas Miller performed on the big fiddle that he used to play in church sixty years ago. The diameters of the bodies in the solar system are: The Sun, 883,246 miles; Mercury, 3,224; Venus, 7,687; the Earth, 7,916; Moon, 2,209; Mars, 4,189; Ceres and Pallas, uncertain; Juno, 1,425; Vesta, 238; Jupiter, 89,170; Saturn, 79,042; Herschel, 35,112.

In a sermon, Rev. Dr. Alger on "The Chronic Miracles in Human Life," the human face was particularly specified as the miracle of miracles. Made up of but few features, yet the 1,200,000,000 faces on the globe were every one so different that any person could readily distinguish any one from any other.

In the house of a Devonshire laborer there were lying on an ordinary sized bed two mothers, two sons, one daughter, one grandmother, one grandson, brother and sister, uncle and nephew, all of whom (eleven) were comprehended in four persons, viz: A mother and daughter, each with an infant son.

HELEN'S OTHER BABY.

"What makes that noise?" asked a little boy on the train the other day. "The curse," answered the mother. What for?

Because they are moving. What are they moving for? The engine makes them. What engine?

The engine in front. What's it in front for? To pull the train.

What train? This one?

This car? repeated the youngster, pointing to the one in which they sat.

Yes. What does it pull for? The engineer makes it. What engineer?

The man on the engine. What engine?

The one in front. What is that in front for?

I told you that before.

Told who what?

Told you.

What for?

On, be still; you are a nuisance.

What's a nuisance?

A boy who asks too many questions.

Whose boy?

My boy.

What questions?

The conductor came just then and took up tickets, and the train pulled up at the station.

The last we heard as the lady jerked the youngster off the platform, was: What conductor?

WINCKELMAN, quoting the comedies of Plautus and Terence, observes that Grecian doors opened outwards, so that a person leaving the house knocked first within, lest he should open the door in the face of a passenger. Hinges were not then in use; and at Rome, Pompeii and Herculaneum doors, even of marble, have at top and bottom pivots which turn in sockets.

JOB PRINTING.—This office has every facility for doing all kinds of job printing. And inasmuch as all home industries should have the preference over all others, we should be pleased to receive orders at any time for that class of work.

RENO,

THE DAILY JOURNAL

Is the best daily paper published on the line of the Central Pacific Railroad, east of Sacramento, and having a general circulation throughout the State, it is especially valuable as an advertising medium.

THE DAILY AND WEEKLY JOURNAL
Have a combined circulation larger than that of any interior journal of Nevada, excepting those of the Comstock.

NEWS OF THE MORNING.

Russia is still trying to purchase fast steamships.

The Austrians have crossed the frontier in Bosnia without difficulty.

Bogardus beat Capt. Shelly in a pigeon shooting match in London yesterday.

The Marquis of Lorne will succeed Lord Dufferin as Governor-General of Canada.

Locusts are so numerous in Maryland that an extra famine officer has been asked of England.

Lieutenant Wallace overtook the hostiles at Clear Creek, Montana, and gave them a severe repulse.

Kearney has arrived in Boston and was welcomed by a large crowd. He declined to make a speech, but did some responsible hand shaking.

All communication with New Orleans from surrounding cities is conducted under quarantine, on account of the prevalence of yellow fever.

The rendezvous for all unfriendly Indians, both on the Oregon and Washington Territory side, is at the foot of Priest rapids, where they are collecting in great numbers. Chief Moses says he cannot control his young men, and warns the settlers to look out for themselves.

THINK OF THIS.

Here is a nut for somebody to crack who believes in the infallibility of Governor Bradley and the present bullion tax law. We are told that the monthly shipments of this district alone to Salt Lake and elsewhere aggregate about $30,000. The industry is a growing one. Indeed, with the exhaustion of our fuel supply, it is not improbable that our principal mines may ship their ores beyond the State for reduction. Under the present law not one dollar of revenue can be gathered from property in ore, bullion alone being subject to taxation. Now it follows that if the present bullion tax law is too sacred to be touched, as is contended by the Bradley ring, ores shipped from the State, even though they should amount to millions annually, will not be required to contribute one dime to the support of the State and county Governments. This is a point that should not escape the attention of political parties in the coming contest.

The Eureka Sentinel gives a new view of the situation in the above. We don't know that it makes much difference anyway. Why not send all the ore out of the State. What between the mill rings and the stock rings there is but little nutriment left for the people. We send our insane out of the State; we get our prominent officers out of the State. Probably might as well send what ore we have, and then apply to be annexed to Oregon or some other seaport.

There is a growing demand by the public for the passage of laws which shall compel great railroad corporations, which are purely the creatures of law, to deal justly and without discrimination, for or against any person or locality, with all the people in the regions which their roads traverse and supply. Any measure calculated to make these roads subordinate to law, instead of permitting them to remain above the law, and that shall force them to deal equitably with all, shall in the future as in the past have my hearty support.—Senator Jones' Virginia Speech.

It is about time that Congress or the several States should regulate this matter of discrimination, and especially should the State of Nevada take up the subject in earnest. How much longer are the people going to be robbed without making objection and endeavoring to prevent it. Has not forbearance ceased to be a virtue?

The Nevada Bank of San Francisco has just subscribed for $1,250,000 of U. S. four per cents., to be paid in standard dollars, the same being proceeds of silver recently sold and delivered at the San Francisco and Carson Mints. We believe this is the largest single subscription yet made. So it goes. One consolation—they can't take the bonds to pay the toll across the Dark Valley of the Shadow of Death.

NOT DISPOSED TO ACCEDE.

The Chinese Consul accredited to San Francisco, who arrived by the City of Tokio last Saturday, says, relative to the proposed modifications or abrogation of the Burlingame treaty, that the Chinese Government is not disposed to accede to such action. We don't care whether they consent or not. This Government should immediately take the necessary steps to act for China, and without her consent. "The Chinese Must Go." This country must put an absolute stop to Chinese immigration. It is the only safe remedy.

By the substitution of the word "license" for "certificate," in the Bank Commission Bill, passed by the last Legislature, the incorporated banks are absolved from the payment of city licenses. The city is thereby deprived of an annual revenue of $25,000. The only redeeming feature about legislative enactments is the magnitude of their importance or the submissiveness of their dishonesty.—S. F. Stock Exchange.

Legislation these latter days is generally in the interest of Capital, and the rich are becoming richer and the poor poorer. Speed the time when there will be some legislation in the interest of the toiling masses.

THE Grass Valley Union says: "The Chinese are going. We learn that a strong feeling is prevailing among the Chinese in this section of the State to return to their native land. Quite a number have left of late, and more will follow upon the departure of each steamer." The sooner they go the better.

It is now pretty well understood that California and Consolidated Virginia will both pass the dividends for July. The only chance now for bonanza stockholders is to apply to the managers and have the "tailings" incorporated. Dividends would then be in order for several years.

HENRY EDWARDS, unable to find a purchaser in California for his entomological collection, has sent it to Boston. It was packed in 1,035 boxes, enclosed in thirty-six outside cases, and measured ten tons in ship's freight.

SURRENDERING HIS TRUST.

At the conclusion of his speech in Virginia last Saturday night, Senator Jones said this:

Fellow citizens, I am about to surrender to a generous constituency the high Senatorial trust confided to my charge nearly six years ago. Mistakes I may have made; errors I may have committed; but examine the commission I am about to surrender as closely as you may, and you shall find that it has never been used to subserve selfish or personal ends, and that the honor of the Commonwealth placed in my keeping has been unsullied. It is for the people of Nevada to determine who shall be my successor. It would be disingenuous in me not to declare at this time, and in the presence of my friends and neighbors of Storey county, that an endorsement by the people of the State would be most gratifying to my feelings; but if it is their wisdom the people shall decide that the general interests will be best subserved by choosing from the list of her many distinguished sons one to succeed me, I shall rest entirely content and never cease to hold in grateful remembrance the honor already bestowed upon me. A man who has served in a public office holds an entirely different relation to the public than he who seeks it for the first time. I am proud to know that the State has many citizens fitted by ability, integrity and knowledge of public affairs to serve her acceptably in the Senate of the United States. A seat in that body is for such citizens a legitimate object of ambition—may be honorably solicited by themselves, and their friends for them. It is legitimate for them to make promises for the future, and by all honorable means to present their qualifications and fitness for so high a trust. The State owes no man an office, and no man is necessary to the State. The field of selection is wide, and the claims of all candidates should be fully, freely and fairly canvassed. But the incumbent of an office cannot, with any show of grace, solicit a reappointment or re-election. Promises are no longer in order for him. They must have emptied themselves into performances—he must stand or fall by his record. This is the position I find myself in to-night, and I shall await with calmness the verdict of the people.
